BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.
THEIR SESSION YESTERDAY.
 Report of the Treasurer—Co-operation and its Fruit—American Baptist Publication Society—The Sermon, &c.
 The devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Dr. W. Synner, of Nottoway, were begun at 9:30 A. M. But a very small part of the Association was present until a later hour.
 The Chair announced the Committee on Credentials as follows: E. R. Acree, Joseph A. Jeffries, S. M. Grimley, and W. L. Broadhead.
 The President invited the vice-presidents to seats on the platform, and announced that "pages are ready to wait on the members and prevent the necessity of their moving about the hall." [A smile ran through the body as they were thus reminded of their honored president, who has been accustomed to provide over bodies very different from this.]
 Rev. Dr. W. E. Hatcher paid a brief but feeling tribute to Rev. Luther Broadhead, "one of our Virginia Broadheads, and one of the strongest, noblest, and best of them all"—who recently died of his post of duty in Newberry, S. C.
 Rev. J. C. Dargan, of Petersburg, paid an eloquent tribute to "Virginia's brightest and best gift to his own native State (South Carolina)"—his cherished friend and brother, Luther Broadhead.
 At the call of the president, Rev. Dr. George B. Taylor led in special prayer for the large circle afflicted by the death of Mr. Broadhead.
 At the suggestion of Rev. W. A. Pearson, Rev. Dr. Tichenor led in special prayer for Rev. Dr. Curry.
 H. K. Ellyson, Esq., read the report of the treasurer of the Association, Norvell Ryland. The report shows that the receipts for the year ending October 31, 1885, have been as follows: State Mission Board, $8,051.86; Sunday-School and Bible Board, $1,547.28; Educational Board, $4,916.05; Foreign Mission Board, $10,398.74; Home-Mission Board, $3,940.95; Ministers' Relief Fund, $2,108.57—total, $33,963.49. The report gives details of the disbursements of the money received and a table of receipts by associations.
 Professor H. H. Harris, chairman of the committee, read the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CO-OPERATION.
 The committee heartily congratulates the General Association on the substantial progress which has been made since their last report. Despite the depression in all branches of business the contributions sent up to the treasurer are larger than ever before. The collections for the seventeen and a half months ending October 31st have been $52,700—this is, $3,000 a month, or $36,000 a year.
 The aim of this committee has been—first, to secure a contribution from every church; and secondly, from every member. In the former good progress has been made. As illustrating this advance the report mentions that in 1881 in the Accomack Association eleven of its fourteen churches gave $833; this year thirteen churches gave $725. Of the Dan-River Association, composed of fifteen churches in 1881, six contributed $351. It now contains sixteen churches, all contribute, and aggregate is $877. In the Roanoke (thirty-four churches), eleven in 1881 contributed $568. This year twenty-eight contributed $1,248.
 The committee recommends that their successors be authorized to prepare and furnish at cost to any churches not yet provided envelopes for collections to be taken not less frequently than four times a year.
 The committee further recommend that the district associations give more time to the consideration of the work which is peculiarly their own—viz., the development of the churches within their bounds, and the cultivation of the gifts and graces of the membership.
 Professor Harris made a clear statement of the work of the committee, congratulated the Association on what has been accomplished, and made a business statement of plans for the future.
 Rev. Dr. Winfree emphasized the suggestion that the district associations should give more attention to their own local work and to the development of the churches in the grace of giving.
 Rev. Dr. Tyree earnestly urged that "the grace of giving" should be insisted on as a part of our religion; just as much as repentance, faith, or baptism. He believed that there had been great improvement in this direction, but that there is ground for still further improvement.
 Rev. J. B. Turpin had felt gratified when he heard the Dan-River Association spoken of as "the banner Association of the State to remember that has had once before in its history, in his body, but when he heard that the Albemarle was not doing so well he did not feel so comfortable in view of the fact that he is now a member of that Association. He gave some explanation of the difference, and urged that all should stir themselves up to do their very best.
 Brother Betts urged that there should be some better agreement between the boards as to dividing the work of the several collections.
 Dr. W. E. Hatcher desired to emphasize the point that district associations should give more time to looking after the destitution within their own bounds, and that the churches allow their pastors to give a good deal of time to working among the destitute churches outside. He illustrated by the work done by William Ellyson, Esq., of Albemarle, who has been earnestly for the Appomattox Association.
 Judge George H. Swann, of Fincastle, urged that instead of relying on the public collection the laymen should be called into the work and each member canvassed for a contribution.
 E. T. Rice, Esq., of Farmville, seconded earnestly Judge Swann's suggestion, and made an amusing and telling speech.
 Rev. Dr. C. H. Ryland, a member of the committee, suggested that a plan well worked is better than no plan, and that all the committee desired was that each church should have and diligently work some plan.
 The report was unanimously adopted. The Committee on Order of Business asked leave to change the order so as to substitute "Home Missions" for "Foreign Missions" for the meeting Wednesday night, and presented the following additional report, which was adopted:
 Thursday: 9:30 A. M., Miscellaneous Business; 10 A. M., Ministerial Relief; 11 A. M. to 1:30 P. M., State Missions; 7:30 P. M., Virginia Baptist Association.
 Friday: 9:30 to 10 A. M., Miscellaneous Business; 10 to 11:30 Sunday-School and Bible Work; 11:30 A. M., to 1:30 P. M., Education; 7:30 P. M., Foreign Missions.

BIBLE-WORK.
 Rev. Dr. C. C. Bittling, Bible Secretary of the American Baptist Publication Society, was invited to address the Association, and responded in an able and eloquent speech. He first spoke of his pleasure in coming once more to scenes of his labors of other days, and to mingle with brethren so dearly loved. He spoke of the necessity under which Baptists are placed to give the whole Bible to the whole world; gave a sketch of the history of Bible-work among them, and urged the free circulation of the open Bible among all peoples of all lands.
 He gave from the reports of the American Bible Society statistics to show the great destitution of Bibles even in the homes of this land of Bibles, and illustrated it by an eloquent appeal for wider sympathies, more fervent prayers, and more liberal contributions for this work.
 He did not come to antagonize but to help the work of Virginia Baptists in pushing forward the grand work of putting God's Word in the homes and hands and hearts of the people.
 Dr. Bittling's speech was in fine tone and spirit, and seemed to make a fine impression on the large congregation who heard him.
 Rev. Dr. C. H. Ryland, financial secretary of Richmond College, announced that one of the "scholarships" for ministers' sons is unexpectedly vacant and that the college would be glad to fill it.
 He also cordially invited the delegates and visitors to visit the college grounds and buildings at any hour in the morning or afternoon which might suit their convenience.
THE ASSOCIATION SERMON.
 After preliminary services, in which Rev. Dr. J. T. Kincannon, Rev. C. F. James, and Rev. Dr. W. M. Williams took part, Rev. Dr. A. E. Owen, of Portsmouth, took the stand, and announced as his text Acts xiii, 2: "The Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them."
 After a brief and appropriate introduction he announced as his theme, "The Divine Call of the Missionary." He discussed under his theme the following points:
 1. The work God has for him to do—the salvation of men.
 2. To this work God calls men—especially preachers. There is a divine call to the ministry.
 3. From one of these preachers thus called God especially calls His foreign missionaries and bids them go "far hence to the Gentiles."
 4. God calls his preachers and missionaries through the churches. God has made his churches the custodians of his truth, and He first calls the man and then the church to send him. He urged pastors and churches to look out and encourage these men called of God to his work.
 5. God calls His preachers and missionaries out of spiritual churches. Our churches produce few preachers, because their spirituality is dried up.
 6. God often calls men of the highest intellectual and moral powers. He illustrated this by speaking of Barnabas, Saul, Judson, Carey, and Yates. He urged that the churches should be more ready to give up to the foreign field their ablest and most efficient men.
 7. The men called to this work should be entirely consecrated to it. No voice should be heard above the voice of God.
 Dr. Owen closed with a feeling and eloquent appeal that God's people should give themselves afresh for the work of God. The discourse abounded in eloquent passages and made a fine impression on the great congregation.
 The exercises were concluded by singing the well-known hymn "The Morning Light is Breaking."
EVENING SESSION.
 Promptly at 7:30 the body was called to order by the president, Hon. H. B. Pollard. Prayer was offered by Rev. John Robert Bagby.
 On motion the order of the day was called for, and a report on Home Missions by Rev. R. R. Acree.
 The object of the Home Mission Board, which is located at Atlanta, is to supply missionaries in every southern State and among the Indians. The report states that the Board has spent more money in Virginia in the last seventeen months than in any corresponding period for five years. It had under appointment, for varying terms of service, 187 men and women. During the past year before of these 51 were in Texas, 34 in Florida, 21 in Arkansas, 21 in the Indian Territory, and the remainder being in Georgia, Louisiana, North Carolina, Missouri, Kentucky, Alabama, and Virginia.
 These 185 missionaries supplied 426 churches and stations, and reported 2,931 baptisms and a total addition to the churches of 4,464. At present the Board has 200 missionaries. During the past year the Board has received more than 2,000 conversions and additions of 1,000 more. The report says: "Shall we not stand by a Board which makes such a showing?"
 The total receipts from all sources for the year ending May 1, 1885, were $67,257; from Virginia, $3,940.95. The report further states that the wants of the Board for the ensuing year are greater than before. It is needing for the Board for church building and $60,000 for support of its missionaries, so that at least $100,000 will be needed to carry on its work successfully, and of this sum Virginia is asked to give $8,000.
 The hymn "Thy Religion that can give sweetest pleasures while we live" was sung with a will by the overflowing congregation; after which Rev. Dr. S. A. Goodwin, of Danville, spoke in behalf of the Board with an eloquence rarely excelled. Any attempt to report in brief a speech so replete with information and sound logic would be vain. At its close the hymn "Stand up, stand up, ye soldiers of the cross," was sung.
 After which Dr. J. T. Tichenor, the corresponding secretary of the Board, addressed the meeting, giving more in detail the work of the Board. Although hoarse from frequent speaking, his address, which was exceedingly interesting and instructive, was listened to with the most marked attention and evidently enjoyed by the audience. The speaker alluded feelingly to the work in New Orleans—especially to the new mission in Valence street and to the establishment of an industrial school; also, the work in Florida and among the Cubans.
 "All hail the power of Jesus' name" was sung by the congregation standing.

Dr. W. E. Hatcher, by permission of the body, made a statement in reference to a needy church in Virginia under the patronage of the Board, and a good collection was raised for this church, which is located in Winchester, and of which Rev. J. C. Davidson is the pastor.
TO-DAY.
 The programme for to-day is as follows: 9:30 to 10 A. M., miscellaneous business; 10 to 11, ministers' relief; 11 to 11:30, State missions.
 There will be no afternoon session, but at 8 P. M. the Virginia Baptist Historical Society, of which Rev. Dr. Synner is president, holds its tenth anniversary in the Second Baptist church.
 Rev. Dr. Ellis, of Baltimore, Md., delivers the principal address, and his fine reputation as an orator will no doubt attract as large a crowd as assembled last night.
 A committee was appointed on time, place, and preacher for the next meeting.
 At 10 P. M. the Association adjourned.
MATTERS AT THE CITY JAIL.
 William R. Smith Visited by His Brother—A Prisoner Presents that He will Commit Suicide.
 Mr. William R. Smith, found guilty of stealing money from the State, while a clerk in the Auditor's office, has for weeks been suffering severely, and his health has been so bad that the physician at the jail declared that to bring him to court would endanger his life. Under these circumstances his case has been passed by. He sleeps but little and his nerves are completely shattered. His condition excited the alarm of friends, and no doubt reached the ears of his brother, who resides in West Virginia.
 Yesterday the brother reached Richmond and visited Mr. Smith at the jail. The meeting was very affecting. The prisoner wept bitterly, and his brother showed the strongest sympathy and feeling for the unfortunate man. The brothers had a long talk about home and the old plantation upon which they were raised, and the prisoner was delighted to receive a number of apples that came from the trees he used to play under when he was but a boy. The visit did the prisoner a great deal of good, and yesterday his condition was better than for some time past.
 Night before last Max Spier tried to make jail-keeper believe that he had committed suicide. He wrote the following letter:
 "Dear Sir,—Is liberty so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the cost of lives? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what cause others may take, but as for me: Give me liberty or give me death. As I can't get the first I shall have to take the latter."
 "Which is the only way I see to get out of my troubles. From day to day, slowly but surely, my mind is leaving me, and I know that if I stay in jail much longer reason will leave me and I shall go mad. To avoid this I rather take my life. I leave this world without ill-feeling towards any one."
 "I know I have done wrong, but I have repented, and I know my God has forgiven me. Give my body to Mr. Treman. Tell him to give me a decent burial."
 The letter closed with a poetic quotation and the announcement that he hoped God would "raise" him up.
 When jailer Kerse got the letter he hastened to Spier's cell, and found him sitting up. Spier was standing up by the wall. One end of a No. 40 spool of cotton sewing-thread was tied around his neck in the shape of a hangman's noose; the other end of the thread was attached to a tooth-pick, which was loosely driven into a crevice in the wall. Spier pretended all the time that he was attempting suicide. He is the same man that fooled the old Salvation-Army woman by passing himself off for Clavertus.
THE INAUGURATION.
 Proposed Ceremonies When the Governor Goes Into Office—Inauguration Ball.
 Colonel John B. Cary, as chairman of the Virginia Democratic Committee, yesterday wrote to Governor-elect Lee, conveying to him the committee's expression of desire to have inaugural ceremonies on the 1st of January, when the General enters upon his duty as chief magistrate of this Commonwealth.
 When Governor Holliday was inaugurated the military of this city and several companies from other parts of the State escorted him to the Capitol, and from the portico of that building he read his inaugural to a large number of legislators and other people assembled about him and on the Square; but usually the Governor takes the oath of office quietly and without any ado enters upon his duties. On this present occasion the demand for a ceremonious and stately inauguration is very general, both on the part of the people of this city and State. Whatever objections, if any, may be raised in the direction, there can hardly be one to an inauguration ball. The City Committee might get the Armory and secure a decorator and have it put in elegant order for this purpose, and people would come here from all parts of the State to attend the ball.
 Until General Lee has been heard from nothing will be done; but if he allows the City Committee to proceed with the ball, the sub-committee heretofore appointed will be enlarged by the addition of a considerable number of gentlemen from the public generally, so that all the people will have voice in the arrangements.

The immediate cause of death was carbuncle. His constitution was broken down and death was not unexpected, as his illness was considered critical from the first. Judge McKoy was one of the ablest judges on the bench of North Carolina, and was a fine specimen of the old-time judge. He was greatly beloved by all who knew him.
